BIBLIOGRAPHICA ARCANA

I RECENT GERMAN LITERATURE ON THE HISTORY OF ETHNOLOGY (PART TWO)

James Ryding
Freie Universität, Berlin

(This completed Mr. Ryding's two part bibliography for the German-speaking countries. We are extremely grateful, and earnestly solicit similar focussed bibliographies on other areas or topics in the history of anthropology.)

History of Ethnology, Including Scholarship in Austria and Switzerland

Ferdinand Anders. "Altmexiko und Europa im Licht der Ideengeschichte", Ethnologische Zeitschrift Zuerich (1970,1):11-40; surveys the European interpretations of the religious meaning of pre-Columbian Mexican art in the 16th and 17th centuries.

Urs Bitterli. "Die Beurteilung des Überseebewohners im Lichte physiognomischer Forschungen des 18. Jahrhunderts", Ethnologische Zeitschrift Zuerich. (1974,2):7-14; discusses attempts by 18th-century scholars to assess the importance of the physiognomic characteristics of non-European peoples.

Roland Girtler. "Die politische Struktur australischer Wildbeutergruppen und die sozio-historischen Bedingungen der auf sie bezogenen Theorien", Wiener ethnohistorische Blätter. 10(1975):23-53; subjects the changing theoretical interpretation of the political structure of the Australian aborigines to a "Kuhnian" analysis of changing paradigms in ethnology and of the socio-historical context of ethnologists since about 1850.

Roswith Hartmann discusses aspects of the history of ethnological linguistics in the following articles:

"Linguistik im Andengebiet: Geschichte und Stand der Quechua-Forschung", Zeitschrift für Lateinamerika-Wien. 4(1972); "A propósito de la nueva edición de la "Gramática Keshua" de Ernst W. Middendorf", Papers in Andean Linguistics, Vol. 1/2. (University of Wisconsin, Madison, 1972); "Aportes de algunos estudios andinos al conocimiento del quechua", Boletín de la Academia Nacional de Historia. (Quito), 57(1974):301-316; "En torno a las ediciones más recientes de los textos quechuas recogidos por Francisco de Avila", Actas del XI Congreso Internacional de Americanistas de Roma. 3(1975):31-42; "Un predicador en quechua del siglo XVI", Libro Jubilar para Jorge C. Muelle. (Lima, in preparation).

- Hans-Jürgen Heinrichs has edited and written an introduction to a new edition of Bachofen's Das Mutterrecht and compiled the anthology Materialien zu Bachofens "Das Mutterrecht" documenting his reception over the past century in a wide variety of fields including mythology, ethnology, literature and politics, (both volumes, Frankfurt: Suhrkamp, 1975).
- Hans Lang-Hembd. "Der Schweizer Indianermaler Carl Bodmer", Ethnologische Zeitschrift Zuerich. (1974,1):243-249; offers biographical information on the 19th century Swiss painter of American Indian subjects.
- Irmgard Moschner. "Zur Quellensituation des ethnographischen Pösch-Nachlasses. Ozeanien-Reise 1904-1906", Wiener ethnohistorische Blätter. 6(1973):43-59; describes the journals written during Rudolf Pösch's expedition to New Guinea and Australia and contains previously unpublished material concerning the Kai of New Guinea.
- Angelina Pollak-Eltz. "Woher stammen die Indianer Amerikas? - José Gumilla und das Denken seiner Zeit", Wiener ethnohistorische Blätter. 5(1972):21-30; looks at the explanation for the origins of the American Indians found in Father Gumilla's "El Orinoco Illustrado" (1741).
- Justin Stagl. "August Ludwig Schloßers Entwurf einer 'Völkerkunde' oder 'Ethnographie' seit 1772", Ethnologische Zeitschrift Zuerich. (1974,2):73-91; outlines Schlozer's proposals for a "Völkerkunde" and an "ethnographische Methode" to supplement universal historical study.
- Maria-Barbara Watson-Franke. "Interpretation und historische Ethnologie. Kritisches zu Fritz Graebner", Wiener ethnohistorische Blätter. 6(1973):31-42, discusses Graebner's views on interpreting ethnohistorical source material and compares these with the hermeneutic interpretations advanced by the Viennese School of Ethnohistory.
- Karl R. Wernhart. "Eine Wienerin in den Gesellschaftsinseln: Ida Pfeiffers Aufenthalt in Tahiti im Jahre 1847", Wiener ethnohistorische Blätter. 6(1973):61-90; discusses her ethnographic accounts of Tahiti and compares these to other travel accounts of the period.
- Ernst Winkler. "Über den Funktionalismus in Ethnographie und Geographie", Ethnologische Zeitschrift Zuerich. (1972,1):385-391; outlines the differing interpretations of functionalism in ethnology and anthropogeography.

Erich Woldan has compiled for the Wiener ethnohistorische Blätter several extensive bibliographies of European geographical and ethnographic works available in print dealing with Africa, America, Australia and the South Sea Islands:
 "Die älteste Literatur über die portugiesischen Entdeckungen und Eroberungen in Originalausgaben", 1(1970):5-13;
 "Die geographisch-ethnographische Quellenliteratur über Afrika des 15.-17. Jahrhundert in Originalausgaben", 3(1971):75-87.
 "Die erd- und völkerkundlichen Quellenwerke über das nördliche und östliche Sudamerika des 16. und 17. Jahrhunderts", 5(1972):73-84;
 "Die erd- und völkerkundlichen Quellenwerke über Ozeanien und Australien von 1523-1875", 6(1973):91-120; 9(1974):73-85; 10(1975):89-104.

History of Ethnological Museums and Associations:

Herbert Abel. Vom Raritätenkabinett zum Übersee-Museum. (Bremen, 1970); in addition to this survey a bibliography of Abel's articles dealing with more specific aspects of the history of the "Übersee-Museum" in Bremen is to appear shortly in his Festschrift, Jahrbuch der Wittheit. 19(1975).

Christian Andree. "Geschichte der Berliner Gesellschaft für Anthropologie, Ethnologie und Urgeschichte, 1869-1969", in Hermann Pohle and Gustav Mahr, eds., Festschrift zum hundertjährigen Bestehen der Berliner Gesellschaft für Anthropologie, Ethnologie und Urgeschichte. (Berlin, 1969-1971), pp 9-139; contains information on the founding, major activities, membership and funding of the association.

K. Krieger and G. Koch, eds., Hundert Jahre Museum für Völkerkunde Berlin. Baessler-Archiv, N. F., 21(1973); this volume contains a general history of the Berlin museum by Sigrid Westphal-Hellbusch (pp. 1-99) followed by histories of the collections in each of the thirteen departments.

Wulf Lohse. "Zur Geschichte des Hamburgischen Museums für Völkerkunde und Vorgeschichte", Mitteilungen aus dem Museum für Völkerkunde und Vorgeschichte Hamburg. N. F., 1(1971):53-61; surveys the history of the museum in Hamburg since 1928.
